APPENDIX 1

Examples of Documentary Evidence Required for Extenuating Circumstances

Circumstance	Required Evidence	Guidance Note
Illness/ injury/ hospitalisation	A medical certificate or letter signed by a registered medical practitioner.	The medical certificate or letter must verify the nature of the illness and the likely impact it has had on the candidate's assessment performance or ability to undertake assessment. Mild illness such as common cold, headaches, sore throats or digestive problems will not normally be regarded as an extenuating circumstance.
Illness of close family member	A medical certificate or letter signed by a registered medical practitioner.	The medical certificate or letter must verify the nature and severity of the illness. The candidate must explain why his personal attention was required and that no one else was available to provide support in the Deferment Form.
Bereavement	A copy of the death certificate.

Circumstance	Required Evidence	Guidance Note
Personal/ emotional circumstances	A signed statement from a professional counsellor or registered medical practitioner.	The statement must verify the nature of the illness and/or the circumstances and the likely impact it has had on the candidate’s assessment performance or ability to undertake assessment. Examination stress is a common experience and not considered an extenuating circumstance unless a medical diagnosis of illness has been made.
Involvement in accident	A written statement of events supported by police report.	Where the impact of the accident has led to a medical consultation, a medical certificate or letter from a registered medical practitioner verifying the likely impact it has had on the candidate’s assessment performance or ability to undertake assessment should be submitted.

Circumstance	Required Evidence	Guidance Note
Victim of crime	A written statement of events supported by police report or a signed statement from a professional counsellor or registered medical practitioner.	Where the impact of the crime has led to a medical or professional consultation, a medical certificate or letter from a registered medical practitioner verifying the likely impact it has had on the candidate's assessment performance or ability to undertake assessment should be submitted. It is acknowledged that in certain circumstances victims of crime will not have contacted the Police. In such circumstances a statement from a professional counsellor or registered medical practitioner confirming the occurrence of the events and the likely impact it has had on the candidate's assessment performance or ability to undertake assessment will be accepted.
